Councillor nominated for top arts award

A COUNCILLOR from Barking and Dagenham has been nominated for a prestigious award for promoting the arts in the face of austerity.

Cllr Darren Rodwell was short-listed for the 2017 Heart of the Arts Awards' Best Local Authority Arts Champion last week.

Cllr Rodwell said: "My nomination is a reflection on our growing reputation among the creative community as an affordable alternative to the old East End areas of Hoxton, Hackney or Haggerston."

"With our embryonic artists' enterprise zone in Barking to our plans to create more artists' work spaces and the Made In Dagenham film studios, our borough is on track to be one of the capital's cultural powerhouses."

The national campaign for the Arts Hearts for the Arts Awards is a new initiative rewarding councils, councillors and council officers for ensuring that the arts stay at the centre of community life in the face of local government cuts.

COCKROACH AND CHIPS...

FORMER FISH BAR OWNER FINED £4,000 FOR HYGIENE BREACHES

A FISH bar owner has been fined more than £4,000 for serving up cockroaches with the chips.

Haci Tunc, 56, who used to own Top Deck Fish Bar in Station Parade, Barking, was found guilty at Barking-side Magistrates' Court following a council investigation.

Environmental health officers inspected the shop on behalf of Barking and Dagenham Council and served Tunc with a court order.

Cllr Laila Butt, cabinet member for enforcement and community safety, said: "It's outrageous any eatery could let this happen."

"I can assure residents we will be remorseless in our pursuit to protect customers' health from traders like Tunc."

Inspectors had visited the shop back in 2012 following a customers complaint.

They discovered filthy conditions and a cockroach infestation.

Tunc failed to respond to previous court summons and was arrested this year.

Top Deck is now under new management.

Tickets to see classic witch-hunt thriller

IT is starting to get a little eerie in Essex and it can only mean one thing...witches are coming to the Queen's Theatre.

Arthur Miller's spine-tingling witch-hunt thriller, The Crucible, will soon be at the Hornchurch theatre and we have teamed up with the venue to offer two lucky winners a pair of tickets each.

The winners will see Charlie Condou, who played Marcus Dent on the UK's best-loved soap, Coronation Street, in the role of Reverend Hale, and Victoria Yeates, who is known to everyone as Sister Winifred in Call The Midwife, playing Elizabeth Proctor.

The Crucible revolves around the history of the infamous Salem witch trials from 1692-1693 in colonial Massachusetts, USA.

It begins when a group of girls are caught dancing wildly in the woods and terrifying allegations of witchcraft ensue. Lust, superstition and personal grievances collide and the whole village is quickly consumed by an unstoppable wave of fear, paranoia and manipulation – no person is safe from its neighbour and the noose. Who will survive?

Douglas Rintoul, the Queen's Theatre's resident artistic director, who thrilled audiences with his sell-out musical Made in Dagenham, will be directing.

The Crucible is co-produced with Selladoor Productions in association with Les Théâtres de la Ville de Luxembourg and premieres at the Queen's from Friday, February 17, to Saturday, March 11, before touring the UK.

For more information and tickets visit www.queens-theatre.co.uk.

To win one of two pairs of tickets to see The Crucible on Friday, February 17, answer the following question.

Q: Victoria Yeates plays which character in Call The Midwife?

A: Trixie Franklin

B: Chummy

C: Sister Winifred

To enter the competition telephone your answer – A, B or C – to 0901 307 1664 along with your name, address, telephone number and email. Alternatively text YAWITCH (space) followed by A, B or C, and your name, full address and email to 63333.

Work starts at Ive Farm site

THE DEVELOPMENT of Ive Farm, will begin in February.

Planning consent was granted last month for Waltham Forest Council's plans at the site to deliver extra sporting facilities for the borough.

The new sporting site will include two full-size 3G/4G outdoor sport pitches, a 60m sprint track and four-court beach volleyball arena, informal seating, a new pavilion, reception, office and cafe off Orient Way.

Existing outdoor sports facilities at the nearby Score Centre will be relocated to make way for housing.

Clr Clare Coghill, cabinet member for economic growth and high streets said: "The redevelopment of Ive Farm will form an important part of our wider regeneration plans for the Leyton and Lea Bridge area, which include the development of more homes and first-class facilities for new and existing residents."

"The Ive Farm redevelopment will provide more state-of-the-art sporting facilities for our residents to use and enjoy, helping people to stay active and enjoy participating within their local community. We are keen for local residents to play a role in shaping our plans for Ive Farm, and will have more information on how they can get involved shortly."

Work was due to begin this week to ensure the site is safe for workers. These works will include the demolition and removal of the existing pavilion. A council spokesman said efforts will be taken to minimise noise and disruption while work is taking place. The Council has also written to residents living near to Ive Farm to update them on the plans.

NEWS IN BRIEF

● HARRY Potter fans in east London could win a tour around the studios that made the film franchise.

Children and adults alike can immerse themselves in the world of Harry Potter through a range of activities.

Youngsters will be expected to dress as witches and wizards for a fancy dress competition, while adults can test their knowledge in a Harry Potter quiz.

There will be a potions class, a hunt for a notorious witch, and craft classes in which children can make house badges and phoenixes.

The free event takes place on Thursday, February 2, at Barking Learning Centre from 4pm to 6pm.

● BARKING and Dagenham Council marked the start of LGBTQ history month with a flag raising ceremony at the town hall on Wednesday, January 1.

Council members raised the rainbow flag in solidarity with LGBTQ people in the borough.

The theme for the month is 'Citizen, PSHE and Law', and aims to promote equality and diversity for LGBTQ people across the UK.

Hainault Forest receives £6m to aid conservation

ONE of London's most important ancient forests is to get a £6million grant to protect it for future generations to enjoy.

The funding will be spent conserving and managing the 800-acre Hainault Forest. It is the last fragment of a medieval Royal hunting forest established by Henry I that included Hatfield and Epping.

Councillor Sheila Bain, cabinet member for civic pride, said: "This is incredible news and represents months of tireless work. We greatly appreciate this support from Heritage Lottery Fund, and look forward to preserving the legacy of Hainault Forest for many years to come."

"Hainault Forest is a beautiful area which provides residents and visitors with a special place to relax and unwind.

"The investment will allow Redbridge to more effectively protect habitats and species that are in decline. It will also offer much more to visitors who will be able to enjoy the adapted historic buildings.

The cash was announced after the Heritage Lottery confirmed a £4.5m bid had been successful.

Redbridge Council will contribute £1.25m, with a further £250,000 from Vision Redbridge Culture and Leisure.

Together with Epping Forest, Hainault is the largest public open space in London. It includes 250

ANCIENT: Henry I established Hainault Forest acres of greenbelt, ancient woodland and a Site of Special Scientific Interest (SSSI).

In the last quarter of the 19th century, conservationist Edward North Buxton preserved the Royal forests.

Development funding of £218,800 will spent on the 'Hainault Ancient Forest – a Landscape for the Future' project that aims to preserve Buxton's legacy.

The project will focus on four keys areas: investment into the SSSI; landscape and buildings; works on a children's zoo and more activities for visitors.

Intern's animated film set for Brazilian festival

TALENTED: Viktorija Ardamatskaja

A FORMER student of Barking and Dagenham college will have her 2D animated short film shown at an international festival in Brazil in March and April this year.

Viktorija Ardamatskaja, 22, of Barking, made LIGHT, a film based on a struggle between the elements which ends in a dramatic chase.

The Festival Anim!arte judging panel were so impressed with the film that they selected it to appear at Sao Luis, Sao Paulo and Rio Di Janeiro.

Viktorija said: "I am so excited and so proud to know that many viewers will get to share the experience of seeing my characters and going on the adventure with them!"

Viktorija is now an intern at an animation studio in central London, and hopes to become a character animator. To see a 20-second clip of Viktorija's video, visit <https://www.youtube.com/watch?v=AGIbGTLcYtY>

Give your advertising an unfair advantage.

Run some press ads.

The effectiveness consultancy Benchmarking have analysed what happens when companies include press advertising in their media mix.

They looked at 500 econometric models, across a five-year period and discovered that adding newspapers dramatically increases the return on investment of other media.

Over half were service companies who saw the effectiveness of their TV advertising double, ROI of their overall campaigns treble and their online digital display enjoy a four-fold increase.

Individual categories also saw impressive results.

Automotive campaigns clocked a 70% increase. In travel, effectiveness trebled. In retail it leapt by 2.8 times. And most remarkable of all, in the financial category, Benchmarking uncovered an increase of 5.7 times.

So, whatever business you are in, you should be in the newspapers.

The thrill of competition

CHILDREN from James Oglethorpe Primary School, Ashvale Gardens, Upminster, competed in an intense morning of events at Hornchurch Sports Centre.

Year two pupils ran, jumped and threw their way through a series of activities involving schools from across Havering.

Lauren Stephens, Year two teacher, said: "The children represented our school brilliantly and truly enjoyed the day at the sports centre."

"We were a strong team of 11 and our parent support was absolutely fantastic and they were all proud of the team.

"We won our relay against a few other schools and that really boosted us for the final few events."

"Overall it was a fantastic morning and the children cannot wait to try more sporting events."

Amazing Grace's hospital toy drive

GIFT: Michael Charalambous, left, one of the first beneficiaries of the toy drive, and Grace Hill

A WALTHAM Forest teenager delivered toys to Queen's Hospital in Romford after smashing her fundraising target of £1,000.

Grace Hill, 18, raised more than £1,500 from August to December last year after completing work experience at the hospital.

She said: "I did work experience in HR and I got to see the children's ward and decided then that I wanted to raise money for them."

"I'm really interested in children and I want to be a child psychologist so my course gave me the perfect opportunity."

"I set up a fundraising page with a target of raising £1,000. I got 150 per cent of that so I was really proud."

Grace, from Chingford, received cash from her old school Rush Green Primary where pupils raised money by dressing up for Children in Need in November.

She also received money from The Albany School, Hornchurch, from a non-uniform day.

She took requests from children on the ward for presents and managed to get everything on the list before returning.

Pupils learn all about healthy eating with O's

STAFF and players at Leyton Orient FC wowed pupils from Waltham Forest with lessons about nutrition and healthy eating.

The club teamed up with Waltham Forest Council to support Public Health England's Change4Life campaign which tackles childhood obesity.

Phillip Smith, head of health and wellbeing at Leyton Orient Trust, said: "It was great to welcome so many local schoolchildren from across the borough to the Matchroom Stadium to raise the importance of leading a healthy lifestyle.

"The positive impact and reach achieved with this event shows how effective and important partnership working can be."

Children learnt about the consequences of eating too many salty and sugary snacks and spoke to footballers about their training regime before securing their autographs.

ACTIVE: Children learnt about Orient footballers' training regime, received players' autographs and picked up healthy eating guides

Paying their respects to victims of the Holocaust

SERVICE: Politicians, councillors and residents pay tribute to victims of the Holocaust and other genocides

RESIDENTS gathered to pay their respects to victims of the Holocaust and other atrocities at a service in Ilford.

Politicians, religious leaders and students were at Valentines Park for Redbridge's 17th Holocaust Memorial Day service to commemorate the dead and consider the theme of "How can life go on?" after such disasters.

Cllr Jas Athwal, leader of Redbridge Council, said: "We have an obligation to ensure that we keep alive the memory both of those who survived the Holocaust and other genocides and those who did not. This annual commemoration provides an opportunity to learn and reflect on these memories."

Students read poems, while the combined choirs of the South West Essex and Resettlement Reform Synagogue and Ilford United Synagogue sang hymns.

Cllr Athwal said that the service should remind those present that different forms of discrimination have not gone away and must be combatted.

He said: "Sadly, Antisemitism and other forms of hate continue today and by failing to learn the lessons of the past, extremist voices are growing across Europe and the world.

"On Holocaust Memorial Day everyone should stand together with genocide survivors and those who have been the victim of identity-based hate, to support them to believe that their life can go on."

Arson probe after blast destroys flats

MORE than 70 firefighters and 10 ambulance crews were called to Hornchurch after an explosion tore through a block of flats.

Crews from Harold Hill, Hornchurch, Romford, Dagenham, Ilford, Barking and Welling were scrambled to the blaze in a ground floor flat near Ardleigh Green Road just after 5pm on Monday, January 23.

One end of the Bridge Point building suffered a partial collapse.

Firefighters rescued more than 30 people as residents were evacuated from the building.

The major incident caused widespread disruption to commuters in the area.

■ TWO men were arrested on suspicion of arson following the explosion and fire.

Police said two men who were treated in hospital for injuries were arrested and the cause of the explosion remains under investigation.

Flat Roofing Guaranteed for Life

Advertorial

Around 70% of homes in the UK incorporate a mineral felt flat roof.

Mineral felt generally has a slow breakdown often allowing water ingress to cause unnecessary damage before anything can be visibly detected within the home.

A failing roof & the warning signs - Look for signs of cracking around the roof edge, pipes, upstands and roof lights etc.

Beware of blisters on the roof surface, during colder months they can become brittle and crack. Felt will attract moss and algae further degrading the roof surface.

IMPORTANT: - ALL PROPERTY OWNERS PLEASE BE AWARE when a flat roof is replaced there are Part L, Building Regulations that the homeowner and the contractor must comply with. Please call for free information regarding the Part L Law. The homeowner should also be made aware that insurance companies will no longer accept any liability for any external or internal damage caused by a leaking flat roof which is over 10 years old.

In 1999, High-Tech Roofing first introduced the most advanced flat roof technology to the homeowner. Protan, based in Norway, has a pedigree in the design and manufacture of water-proofing materials dating back to 1939, and producing the first roofing membrane in 1971. Protan is our preferred PVC single-ply flat roofing system and will cope with all climates, millions of square meters are installed here and abroad with a proven track record stretching over four decades. Protan is predominantly an architect-specified roofing system, winning many awards serving the very competitive commercial sector.

The Solution

A High-Tech roof is dimensionally stable and solar reflective, the material is unaffected by climate change and 100% resistant to moss & algae growth. The membrane has a unique anti-slip finish allowing the roof to be walked on and is aesthetically pleasing. As it is vapour permeable product it will never blister or become brittle and crack. High-Tech will create a 100% storm resistant watertight roof, maintenance free and guaranteed for life never to leak.

Valentine

HISTORY & TRADITIONS

Advertisement feature

FEBRUARY has long been celebrated as a month of romance and St Valentine's Day contains traces of both Christian and ancient Roman tradition.

Saint Valentine, the patron saint of lovers, is believed to have been murdered on February 14 in AD 270, at a time when the Roman emperor had cancelled all marriages and engagements because he was struggling to get men to join the military.

Saint Valentine secretly married couples until he was caught and sentenced to death, but before he died he left a farewell note to the jailer's daughter, Julia, saying, "From your valentine".

It is said that Julia planted a pink-blossomed almond tree near his grave in what is now the Church of Praxedes in Rome.

Today, the almond tree still symbolises abiding love and friendship and on e's Day

OF VALENTINE'S DAY

February 14, messages of love and affection are exchanged around the world.

While for many of us flowers and chocolates are very much a part of the day, traditions are different across the world.

In Japan it is very much about spoiling your man.

While Japanese women are often said to be reserved and shy when it comes to expressing their affections, it is the women at the forefront on Valentine's Day with lovey-dovey gestures, when they present men with chocolate to express their love, courtesy or social obligation.

They give different kinds of chocolate to different men in their lives, with cheaper treats given to those whom women feel obliged to give to so they are not left out, and the more expensive reserved for boyfriends, lovers or husbands.

In more recent years White Day on March 14 is when men reciprocate their feelings with gifts and chocolates.

Women in South Korea also spoil their men and receive gifts on White Day, but on April 14, the singles who did not receive gifts on Valentine's Day or White Day meet up at restaurants to eat a dish made up of white Korean noodles and a black bean sauce – referred to as black noodles.

Other romantic gestures marked on the 14th of each month include Rose or Yellow Day in May when flowers symbolise blossoming relationships, Kiss Day in June and Hug Day in December.

In Denmark and Norway, Valentinsdag is when men send an anonymous gækkebrev – a funny, short poem or rhyming love note on paper and signed with anonymous dots.

The recipient must guess who the sender is by the number of dots that represent the number of letters in the sender's name.

If they guess correctly, they receive an egg at Easter, or she owes him an egg instead.

In Slovenia, February 14 marks the first day of working in the fields as St Valentine, or Zdravko, is one of the country's patron saints of spring.

While in Finland and Estonia, people there celebrate friendship instead of love on Valentine's Day.

In Wales, they celebrate St Dwynwen's Day, the patron saint of lovers, on January 25, when it is customary to gift love-spoons – an age-old tradition that began when Welshmen would carve intricately decorated spoons out of wood and present them to a woman they were interested in courting or marrying.

LEYTON SIXTH FORM COLLEGE RATED 'GOOD' BY OFSTED 2016

Ofsted said:

The 'quality of teaching, learning and assessment' are heavily praised. 'Teachers set high expectations of their learners with regard to the quality of their work and standards of behaviour. Learners produce work of a high standard.'

Inspectors recognised the high numbers of students going on to university, many to the most prestigious. 'A high proportion of learners on level 3 programmes go on to university. Most learners on level 1 and level 2 programmes progress to the next level of learning.'

'Support is very effective and is tailored to meet individual needs. Learners develop good personal, social and employability skills.'

'Staff have a strong focus on promoting excellence. Students at LSC, the report acknowledges, are introduced to the concept of 'being professional learners' and as a result student behaviour at the college is described as 'excellent'. Students 'participate in a wide range of activities which develop their social responsibility'.

Enrichment and sports provision is also noted to be of a high standard. 'Most learners participate in the many opportunities available to develop their personal and social skills, including volunteering, Duke of Edinburgh awards and the accreditation of their achievements through a university awards scheme.'

'A very high proportion of A Level and Vocational learners achieve their qualifications and the majority exceed their target grades.'
